This kitchen has the elegance of a Seneca raised panel door, with a rich mocha stain. The Knotty Alder species of wood adds character and additional detail. The Island , featuring Oyster paint with Ebony highlights, adds additional charm and an open end to display cook books or memorabilia.

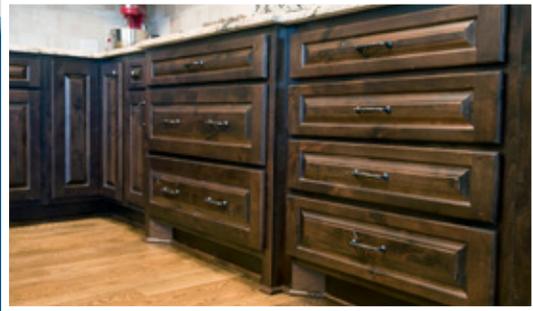

A walk through pantry, five piece drawer fronts, valances and crown molding are some of the many features that add to the beauty and function of the kitchen.

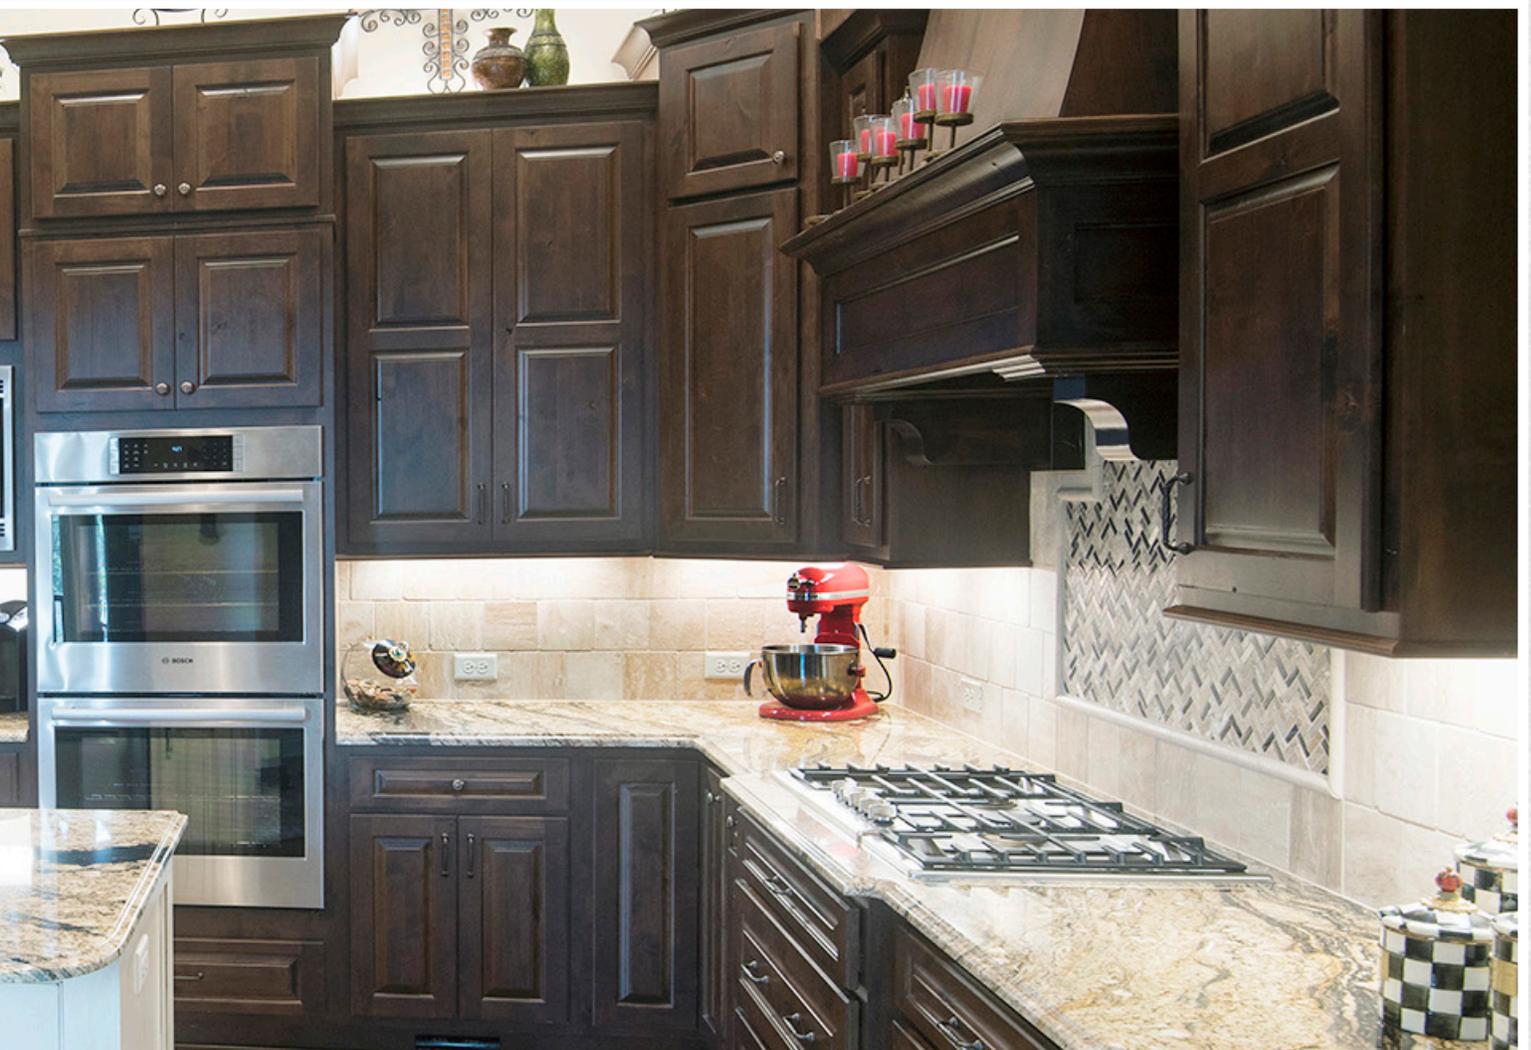

The combination of quality materials and superior construction methods come together to create cabinetry that has the style and flair of fine furniture.

We believe American made cabinetry is the best in the world! The quality of work and service is a matter of personal pride for our Koch Cabinet's skilled craftsmen.

A popular trend in kitchen design is combining two cabinet colors in the same room. In this kitchen design, the gray compliments the crisp, white upper cabinets and allows the pops of color in the kitchen to add personality to the modern design.
